DR. Myla

Business mogul and founder of Ederra multi-million-dollar a luxury medical-grade skin care line. She is also the creator of the Preserve Your Pretty campaign where, in partnership with many nonprofit organizations, she uses her platform to affirm that real beauty starts within.

board-certified surgeon, Dr. Myla Bennett is the Bella Plastic Surgery & Med Spa, a practice located outside of Atlanta, and Pretty Skin RX,

As a black female, Dr. Myla represents less than one percent of board-certified plastic surgeons, making her a highly sought-after surgeon, business coach, and motivational speaker. From talking about cultural competency in medicine to her strong stance on performing safe surgeries and creating natural body contours, Dr. Myla is a leading voice in medical diversity and inclusion and an advocate for educating women about the dangers of plastic surgery when done in unsafe environments. She has provided her expertise regarding these issues on such platforms as Dr. Phil and the Mel Robbins show.

From her TEDx Talk about finding your passion and pursuing it, to her straightforward message for minority college students navigating their way into the medical field, Dr. Myla masterfully connects with audiences across the board. She has been featured in publications nationally and abroad and was named one of Impact Magazine's Women of Impact in 2017 for her work as a coach to other women creating and managing million-dollar businesses. Some of her media highlights include Black Enterprise, Bravo, Jet Magazine, NBC, Radio One, The Tom Joyner Morning Show, and WETv.

As a wife and mother of three, Dr. Myla currently resides in Johns Creek, Georgia. She is a native of Cleveland, Ohio and is one of six children raised in a single parent home. After overcoming many obstacles, Dr. Myla is a proud graduate of the Ohio State University Medical Center and a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

Following her surgical training, Dr. Myla accepted a position with Reid Hospital in Richmond, Indiana where she started the Allure Center for plastic surgery. After three years, she followed her entrepreneurial spirit which led her to create her successful brands and work with notable figures such as Ashley Graham, Kenya Moore, Cynthia Bailey, and the Braxton Family including Toni, Tamar, Towanda, Trina and Ms. Evelyn. She has also been featured on multiple television shows including Braxton Family Values, Married To Medicine and The Real Housewives of Atlanta.
